LYON OFFICE

Arms Fees and Costs 2019

Revised May 2019

This note of Dues, Fees and Charges is for convenience and guidance only. It should be read carefully along with Appendices A and B. Dues, Fees and Charges are assessed on the circumstances of each individual case. An individualised note of the specific Dues, Fees and Charges will be issued to each Petitioner along with the draft text.

Payment of all Dues, Fees and Charges must be made in cleared funds before the draft text will be placed in the Herald Painter's box for listing. Each item in the Herald Painter's box will be listed for allocation to a Heraldic Artist in chronological order according to the date of entry in the Herald Painter's box.

All enquiries about business before the Court of the Lord Lyon must be directed to the Lyon Clerk at the address given above.

Petitioners are welcome to request that an item of work is carried out by a specific Heraldic Artist. While the Lyon Office will do its best to accommodate such requests no guarantee is given. Agreement to such a request is not binding on the Lyon Office, allocation of cases being affected by workload, the availability of Heraldic Artists and other factors. It should be noted that agreement to a specific Heraldic Artist carrying out work does not result in the work being allocated more quickly. The item of work will be allocated to the specified Heraldic Artist in order of listing.

Cheques should be made payable to "The Court of the Lord Lyon". Bank transfer details are available upon request and will be issued along with the draft text and individualised note of specific Dues, Fees and Charges.

All enquiries in respect of Dues, Fees and Charges should be directed, in the first instance, to the Lyon Clerk at the address given above.

A note of additional embellishments is available upon request and will be issued along with the draft text and individualised note of specific Dues, Fees and Charges. The individualised note will then be revised in accordance with any additional embellishments requested.
